Donate

With your contributions we can continue to reach all those in need of our services. Limited funding means we are only able to serve a portion of those in need. Last year we were unable to accommodate requests for services over 450 times. With your support we can continue to reach all those in need of our services.

HUMAN RESPONSE NETWORK

Right now

People in our community are living with fear and pain perpetrated by someone they know, often an intimate partner or someone living in their home.

We can help

Victims of domestic abuse and/or sexual assault from all walks of life come to us seeking refuge and support.

Realize a safer world

We empower survivors to overcome their abuse. We support them while they find and navigate their own road to recovery. We help them plan for a safer tomorrow...

for themselves, their families, and their community.

With your help

With your support we will continue to empower victims to become survivors. With your help we will foster a community where we all live free from the pain of abuse...

Dedicated to breaking the cycle of domestic violence and responding with compassion to victims
